The Way and a Winner Talked and a Prominent Statesman Speaks Cautiously—Gossip of Queen Victoria's Jubilee—Emperor William Has Business Here His Subjects Across the Water—Bismarck's Reason to Loathe—Europe's Conciliatory Speech.

Berlin, Sept. 23.—There was considerable talking in Berlin public today. A prominent statesman was heard to say that the Emperor William had received with the greatest delight news that the proposed Jubilee visit of the Queen of England to her subjects would be made this year. As soon as the Queen's visit was known to be certain the Emperor William would start for England. The Emperor William has business with his subjects across the water. He has been invited to attend the Jubilee celebration, and he will go. The Queen of England will be received with the greatest enthusiasm by the Germans. They have always loved her, and the Germans have always been loyal to the Queen. The visit has received the sanction of nobility. Under the arch supervision of the Emperor William the arrangements for the reception of the Queen of England will be made on a magnificent scale. The Emperor William will be present at the Jubilee celebration, and he will be accompanied by the Empress Victoria. The Queen of England will be received with the greatest enthusiasm by the Germans.
